Dear Dr. Lederberg:

Springer-Verlag, New York, will soon be sending you your copy of our book Medicine: Preserving the Passion.

Your essay is a significant contribution, and we are grateful to you for it. We believe that your comments and our observations resulting from interviews with more than 600 physicians will prove an inspiration to medical students, residents, and clinicians.

We hope that you will be pleased with the book, and, if you are, that you will be able to encourage others to read it. With your copy go our warm good wishes.

Sincerely,
